A Chippewa Valley school is being recognized for its efforts to develop tomorrow's leaders.

Franklin Covey Co., a global public company specializing in performance improvement, recently named Erie Elementary a Leader in Me Lighthouse School. The recognition is a result of the school's effort to initiate school and student outcomes by implementing the Leader in Me progress with fidelity and because of the impact of the program on the community. Principal Jerry Evanski shouted the good news, literally, from the school's rooftop Friday, April 22.
